

(Message of Jesus-Christ to the Churches of Belgium)

I am alive, says Jesus Christ.

Yes, says Jesus the Risen One, I am alive.

I'm at the door.

I'm on the doorstep.

I am coming soon, says the Eternal God.

Yes, says the Most High, I am at the door about to come again to judge all the nations of the earth, may the one who has ears to hear, listen to my words of this day, for I will surely return.

My words of this day are good, says the Bright Morning Star, so do not be troubled by the voice of my Holy Spirit, but have faith in my call of this day in order to be standing on my return.

I am coming

I am coming soon.

I am coming very soon.

I am surely coming again, says the King of kings and the Lord of lords.

I am coming at an hour unknown, known only by the Heavenly Father, says Jesus the Christ, so do not be confused about my coming, for I will come back unexpectedly.

Be in the light and give up the works of darkness that turn my church away from God.

Be in the truth and turn away from the lies of the prince of darkness who tries to turn you away from my Holy Word, says the Yes and the Amen.

Yes, says Jesus the Living One, be in the truth and turn away from lies and you will succeed.

Be in My Holy Scriptures, for I have given you my Holy Word, so you may know the truth and be saved, says the Way, the Truth and the Life.

Yes, says the True God, be always in my Holy Scriptures, so I may lead you in truth and deliver you from the many lies of this blind and deaf generation.

Be in unity and not in division my children, for I am the God of Peace, and you have been called to love each other so the world may see your unity and love, and come to me, says the Prince of Peace.

My words are righteous, be in unity and renounce your many divisions beloved, so the world may recognize you by your love and unity, and come to me, says the Lamb of God.

Be in heavenly things and give up earthly things, for they are passing.

Be in grace and mercy, for I have called you to be gracious and merciful.

Be in the things of the Spirit and renounce satisfying the flesh in the way of this generation that does not know God.

Be patient and persevere, for I will come back unexpectedly.

Yes, says the Almighty, be patient and persevere in the ways of justice and you will succeed, for I shall return unexpectedly.

Be faithful in all things, for I will judge my church before this generation.

Be full of faith, for I see that my people are misguided and in false doctrines, because they have no faith in my Holy Scriptures.

Be confident, for I will not forsake you, says the True and Faithful God.

Be joyful, for I have triumphed over death and sin, says Jesus the Risen One.

Yes, says the Almighty God, be joyful and rejoice, for I have triumphed over death and sin, in order to give you eternal life, so rejoice therefore people of the Holy God.

Be attentive to my words of this day, for I send you this message to waken you and call you to prepare my coming, says the Bright Morning Star.

Prepare and do not be so proud as to reject my call of this day, for I give grace to the humble and resist the proud.

Prepare and do not sleep, for I will not receive those who reject my words and fall into darkness and sleepiness, says the King of kings and the Lord of Lords.

Prepare and have faith in my call of this day, for I will surely return at the hour set by my Heavenly Father, says Jesus the Living One.

Prepare and renounce the dead works of this generation that does not know God.

Prepare and put on your wedding garments, for I will not receive in my reign those who are not clothed for the Wedding Supper of the Lamb.

Yes, says Jesus the Christ, prepare and clothe yourself with wedding garments, for I will not receive in my reign those who are not clothed worthily to take part in the Wedding Supper of the Lamb.

Prepare and rejoice, for your king will not forsake you in the great Tribulation that this generation will soon experience.

Prepare and sleep no more, but wake up and rejoice, for the Lion of the tribe of Judah will surely return to take his beloved.

My words of this day are truthful, so do not be doubtful and reject them and despise them, for I will also judge you, my elected; so prepare and do not dismiss my call, for I will surely return.

My words of this day are good, so do not be opposed to my call, for my words will be fulfilled.

My words of this day are true, so do not turn away from my call, but reject evil and divisions among you, and return to me with all your heart, all your soul and all your being, in order to understand that it is through my Holy Spirit that I do this, for I am Spirit and Truth, says the Most High.

My words of this day are righteous, so do not continue to reject my call to prepare, but return to my Holy Scriptures and you will see that in all generations, I have always warned my people before sending my judgments; so do not be incredulous, but return to my Holy Word and you will understand that I send this message because I love you.

Yes, says the Beginning and the End, I send you my words of this day, because I love you and I wish to warn my church that I am at the door, so that she may be prepared and clothed in wedding garments at my coming.

Let he who has ears, hear: for my words shall soon be fulfilled, says the Bright Morning Star, so be warned and prepare yourselves people of the Holy God.

I'm at the door.

I'm on the doorstep.

I am coming.

I am coming soon.

I am coming very soon.

I will come again more rapidly than you think, at the time chosen by the Father and known only to him.

I will come again unexpectedly, so do not believe the lies of men who claim they know the day and the hour of my coming.

Be aware that very difficult days are approaching beloved.

Be aware that my chosen ones will be greatly persecuted throughout the earth, for mankind will follow the lies of the Prince of Darkness in order to persecute my elect, says the One who Is, who Was and who Is to come.

Be aware that everyone will hate you because of me, says Jesus the Christ.

Be aware that you must always have love and mercy for all, even for your enemies, says the Prince of Peace.

Be aware that I watch over my Church and I will protect you in the hour of temptation that must come before the glorious day of my Coming.

Be aware that I am the one who watches over Israel.

Be aware that I love you, and I gave my life for you at Golgotha's Calvary, in order to give you victory over death and sin, so rejoice and prepare my coming, for I am on the threshold.

Jesus the Christ for the Churches of Belgium.

My words of this day are good people of Belgium, so do not fear my call, but have faith in God and you will succeed.

Yes, my children of Belgium have faith in me and prepare, for I am on the threshold ready to send my judgment.

The spirits of the seven churches say the Amen, for Jesus the Christ has truly spoken to the Churches of the nation of Belgium, for the Glory of God the Father, Elohim.

Amen.

Amen.
